'No Cut-Rate Price For Peace'—Ike

WASHINGTON, Wednesday (Reuter). — President Eisenhower, appealing to the nation for support of his record peace-time budget, said last night, "There is no cut-rate price for peace."

In a nationwide radio-television speech the President added that if the defense portion of his budget was materially cut the country would be taking a fearful gamble.

"I shall never agree to a program of false economy that would permit us to incur again that kind of risk to our country and to the lives of our citizens," the President said in a reference to the rapid demobilization after World War II.

The President could see no immediate relaxation of international tensions to provide for substantial reductions in his Administration's programs to preserve peace.

"The price of peace is high. That explains why taxes are high and why their further reduction has been delayed," he said.

The President devoted most of his speech last night to the necessity of maintaining a strong military defense as to convince the Communists that they could not escape their own destruction if they started a world war.

Abramov Tours Ben-Zvi Institute with President

The President, Mr. Isak Ben-Zvi, yesterday received the Soviet Ambassador to Israel, Mr. A.N. Abramov, at the Ben-Zvi Institute. The President explained the activities and programs of the Institute, which bears his name and which carries out research into the Jewish communities of the Orient and the Middle East.

The President of the Hebrew University, Prof. B. Hanan, was present as was Prof. M. Polonsky, Dean of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the President of the University's Department of Linguistics. The Ambassador later visited the Institute's library and at the end of his visit presented Mr. Ben-Zvi with a number of photographs of ancient Hebrew books and documents in the Tiflis Museum in Georgia.

DANISH GOVT QUILTS COPENHAGEN, Wednesday (Reuter). — The Danish minority Social Democratic Government resigned today following the loss of four of the party's 74 parliamentary seats in the general elections yesterday.

Almogi Alleges 'Terror' at Ata As Pickets Clash with Police

JERUSALEM Post Bureau
HAIFA, Wednesday. — Violence flared up again outside the Ata textile depot in the Lower Town today, as the Ata strike entered its fifth day, with no end in sight.

Several dozen policemen had to guard the store during the morning. Two persons were arrested, one being held on a charge of smashing the store's plate-glass window with a stone.

The storefront was crowded all morning by hundreds of persons, including pickets, general trouble-makers and Communists. Groups of hefty stevedores from the Port moved ostentatiously among the crowd, in which the strikers' pickets formed a tiny minority. The stevedores appeared to have been ordered to the scene.

Every few minutes, the police had to force the crowd back in order to keep the pavement free for passers-by, and traffic was often blocked as the crowd spilled out into the roadway.

A chorus of "Don't buy, don't buy," greeted potential customers. Those who nevertheless did purchase goods

PROGRESSIVES URGE ARBITRATION BY LAW

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — The Progressive Party Executive tonight resolved to ask the Government to enforce the compulsory arbitration law in the Ata strike, if the two sides do not make efforts to reach an agreement soon.

Reporting to the Executive on the strike situation, the Minister of Justice, Mr. P. Zimm, voiced support for a joint committee to study the situation, and this stand was adopted by the meeting.

Governor-Gen. In Jordan Gets Wide Powers

King Hussein has signed a decree empowering the Military Governor-General to dissolve any municipal or local council without giving a reason, the Jordan press reported yesterday.

The Governor-General is also allowed to dissolve or appoint any individual member to the council.

"El Jihad" reported that more than 120 Jordanian employees of UNRWA, charged with belonging to opposition political groups and participating in subversive activities, have been dismissed.

Four political detainees from the Hebron area have been transferred to a special concentration camp, while the number of persons arrested in the Ramallah area alone has risen to over 85, the paper said.

Families to Syria

Several families of Jordanian political leaders and senior Arab Legion officers who sought asylum in Syria during the recent crisis have left for that country.

In Amman, several persons were sentenced to jail terms ranging from one to three years for having torn down pictures of King Hussein.

The new Jordanian Ambassador to Cairo, Abdul Mun'im Rifai, arrived in Cairo yesterday to take over the post from Fawzi Mulla.

On the occasion of the establishment of the State of Israel on May 15, 1948, "A-Difa" wrote editorially yesterday that the date represents "a shameful memory for every Arab... nine years is a long time and the division of Palestine may well last 50 years."

"El Jihad" said that on this day "the eyes of every Palestinian Arab are red from weeping... our only consolation is our dream to see our beloved fatherland united again."

Saudi, Iraq to Have Oil Tanker Concern

Saudi Arabia and Iraq have decided, in the course of their economic talks in Baghdad, to set up a joint shipping company, operating its own tankers, to transport crude oil from the two countries to the West, the Arab News Agency reported yesterday.

The agency said that the two countries will also establish an oil production board to coordinate work.

King Saud on Tuesday received the U.S. Ambassador to Iraq, Mr. Waldemar Galloway, in the Zehour Palace. The Ambassador later visited the Institute's library and at the end of his visit presented Mr. Ben-Zvi with a number of photographs of ancient Hebrew books and documents in the Tiflis Museum in Georgia.

Zoli to Set Up Italian Gov't

ROME, Wednesday (UP). — Sen. Adone Zoli, 62-year-old President of the Christian Democracy Party, agreed today to try and form a Government to end Italy's 18-day old crisis.

Mr. Zoli, Budget Minister in the outgoing Cabinet of Premier Antonio Segni, accepted the task with "reservations."

This Bridge over a Hula drainage canal is the subject of a Syrian complaint to the U.N.

Eban Tells U.S. Syrian Complaint Is Frivolous

WASHINGTON, Wednesday (UP). — The Israeli Ambassador, Mr. Abba Eban, yesterday had a 30-minute conversation with Assistant Secretary of State Francis Wilcox in connection with Syria's complaint to the Security Council regarding the construction of a bridge in the Lake Hula area.

The Council will meet next Tuesday to hear Syria's complaint that the bridge, which spans a drainage canal in the area, has "possible military value." Syria will seek a Council order for Israel to remove the bridge.

Mr. Eban said that the Syrian complaint is "frivolous." He said he told Mr. Wilcox that he assumes the U.S. will support the finding of Col. Byrnes Leary, Acting Chief of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization, that the bridge is designed for reclamation work and that he does not feel justified in asking for its removal.

Mr. Eban refused to say directly whether he obtained assurance of U.S. support when the matter comes before the Council. But he said he had "no reason to expect a change in the traditional U.S. policy" in such matters.

Mr. Eban said he discussed the matter this morning with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. representative to the U.N.

Earlier yesterday he conferred with Assistant Secretary of State William M. Rountree about the recent visit to Israel by Ambassador James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special representative to the Middle East. They discussed a prospective communiqué to be issued on the results of the Richards mission in Israel.

Syrian Jews Held For Trying to Escape

Syria security forces have arrested several Aleppo Jews in Hama on Tuesday, allegedly for planning to escape to Israel, the Arab News Agency reported yesterday.

The report said that the Jews were attempting to cross the border into the Lebanon. It was claimed that the authorities have discovered a clandestine group which smuggles Jews into Israel via the Lebanon.

A statement made by one of the arrested Jews, said the newspaper "Le Sol" reported from Damascus that President Shukri Kuwatri was undergoing a "political illness" which might be the forerunner to his resignation. The reason for the resignation given by the newspaper was that Kuwatri is angry with his Cabinet's insistence on maintaining a state of siege in the country.

Trans-Israel Canal Planned in Paris

PARIS, Wednesday. — M. René Rosta, President of the Economic Council, presiding at a luncheon today in honor of Israel's independence anniversary, said that the construction of an Eilat-Mediterranean canal is one of the major projects on the agenda of French economic cooperation talks with Israel.

M. Rosta said another project is the construction of a Neger railway.

The canal project, he said, "is a dream one... but no less realistic than the railway which was also regarded as a wild dream before steps were taken to implement it. It would serve as an auxiliary to Suez in time of peace and would be imperative in time of conflict."

"France is henceforth indissolubly bound to Israel," M. Rosta asserted.

Other speakers, including ex-Minister Maurice Schumann, Edmond Michelet, Gen. Billotte, Diemede Catroux, and the Socialist M.P. Jacques Picot, all proclaimed the permanency of the Franco-Israeli unwritten alliance with fervor equaling M. Rosta's.

M. Rosta related that when he was presented with a Bible by a worker in the Renault plant in Israel, "I placed my hand on the sacred book and swore, 'France will always stand beside Israel in good times and bad.'"

The Israel Ambassador, Mr. Ya'acov Tsur, and the Ambassadors of Vietnam, Denmark, Australia, Luxembourg, and the Bulgarian Charge d'Affaires, were among 20 distinguished guests at the luncheon.

Training of Egyptians Intensified in Europe

VIENNA, Wednesday (UP). — The emergency landing of an Egyptian pilot in Vienna was evidence of "increased military co-operation between Egypt and the Eastern bloc," political observers said today.

The pilot, 26-year-old Abdul Khamis el Shennassy of Cairo, landed at Schwechat airport last night in a Soviet MIG jet plane coming from Czechoslovakia. He told Austrian authorities he was on a training flight from the Czech airport of Pardubice, to Brno, when he lost his way and had to make an emergency landing because his fuel supply ran out.

During his interrogation, the Egyptian pilot made several contradictory statements. At first he denied knowing Czech, but later spoke fluently in that language. He also said he was unarmed but a loaded pistol was found on him when police searched him. He then claimed he had been invited to Czechoslovakia by the Czech Aero-Club "as a civilian." Later he admitted that he came to Pardubice two months ago for jet training. The training, directed by an English-speaking instructor, is scheduled to be finished in two weeks, he said.

CHURCH'S DUTY TO RECONCILE IN M-E

LONDON, Wednesday (INA). — The duty of the church in the Middle East will be to work in every possible way towards understanding and reconciliation, the Bishop of Bedford, the Right Reverend Angus Maclean, who leaves on July 6 for his new post as Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem, stated today.

The Rt. Rev. Maclean, who was wounded in the leg during the Arab-Israeli fighting in Jerusalem, speaks and writes perfect Arabic.

America and Allies Differ on Follow-Up To Anticipated Israel Test Ship in Suez

Macmillan Promises Effort To Secure Israel's Rights

LONDON, Wednesday (UP). — Prime Minister Mr. Harold Macmillan today opposed using the International Court at The Hague to determine Israel's rights to use the Suez Canal. He made the statement at the start of a two-day vote of confidence debate on the Government's decision to accept Egypt's "unsatisfactory" terms for using the waterway.

He added, "I would earnestly hope that this matter would be settled by the U.N. more quickly, and thus avoid the long delay of the International Court procedure."

"Israel's rights under the 1888 Constantinople Convention must be assured. We shall do all we can in the U.N. and with our friends to see that this happens," the Prime Minister declared.

He said that "There is a great responsibility upon the U.N. It may be said that the U.N. has failed up to now, but I cannot help thinking that the dangers involved in letting these matters drag on are now more clear than ever before to all the nations of the world."

One-Power Control

He told Parliament he will follow Sir Anthony Eden's lead in demanding that the Canal be freed from "uncontrolled authority" of a single power.

Battling to hold right-wing Conservative support in the major debate, Mr. Macmillan declared Sir Anthony's actions "were justified by history. We shall continue to use all the pressure we can to secure our purpose."

Mr. Macmillan followed the Opposition leader, Mr. Hugh Gaitskell.

"... A partial boycott by one or two countries would be a disaster," Mr. Macmillan said. "The Canal is the lifeblood of the world's commerce. It is a situation in which we received so much injury ourselves without developing a sufficient corresponding degree of pressure to achieve our end."

Labourites Jeer

Labourites laughed at him at this point. At another, they shouted "resign" when he asked "what were we to do?" "We could not tolerate a situation in which we received so much injury ourselves without developing a sufficient corresponding degree of pressure to achieve our end."

'Israel Test of Suez' Will Explode Issue

NEW YORK, Wednesday (Reuter). — Pointing out that Britain had but little choice except to submit to Egypt's terms to use the Suez Canal, the "New York Herald-Tribune" editorially said today that the possibility is increasing that Israel's intention to test her rights in the waterway may explode the issue.

The paper said there are strong indications that the "last word has not been spoken on the Suez Canal." This was indicated by Prime Minister Macmillan when he reaffirmed Britain's intention to press for a less one-sided settlement through the various international agencies available. The British also expect to maintain economic pressure on Egypt, it added.

Pipeline Plans

His appointment coincided with an important meeting on Monday of 17 international oil companies to plan new pipelines in the Middle East.

Mr. Macmillan reminded the Commons of this meeting. "As soon as the practical plans have been worked out," he said, "they will be put before the Government concerned, including those of the countries of the Middle East."

He went on to conclude his speech with a general survey of affairs in the Middle East.

● The Baghdad Pact is stronger now than before, and there is closer American co-operation with it.

France Turns To Security Council

PARIS, Wednesday. — Premier Guy Mollet announced today that the French Government had decided to put the Suez Canal question before the Security Council.

He said after a Cabinet meeting that France regarded the Egyptian terms for passage through the Canal as "unacceptable."

M. Mollet said France would make a "last appeal" to the Security Council for a statute in conformity with the six principles approved by the Council last October.

He said he had today offered his resignation to President René Coty in protest against the way the Suez problem was being settled, but Coty had refused to accept it.

M. Mollet said the French boycott of the Canal would continue pending a decision by the Security Council.

He said the French Government had noted "with regret" the decision by Suez Canal users to pay dues directly to Egypt, without minimum guarantees in return regarding free passage and fair distribution of the sums paid to Egypt.

French shipping companies urged the Government today to stop boycotting the Canal.

The Cabinet met today under President Coty to decide whether to stick to Premier Guy Mollet's declaration last Sunday that "France will not pay tolls to Nasser."

The statement caused grave concern in shipping circles which have been hoping that France would follow Britain's lead and permit her ships to sail through the Canal again.

The companies decided to send a delegation to M. Mollet.

But the Premier was said to be adamant today, believing that to accept Egypt's conditions would result in a severe blow to French prestige in Algeria.

Before going to the Cabinet meeting, M. Mollet conferred for 45 minutes with the Israeli Ambassador, Mr. Ya'acov Tsur. There was speculation that the Ambassador may have informed M. Mollet about his Government's plan to send a test ship through the Canal.

Egyptian Press Lashes Dulles on Israel 'Test'

NEW YORK, Wednesday (INA). — The Egyptian press and radio today unleashed an attack on Secretary of State Dulles for saying the U.S. "would not oppose" any effort by Israel to test her rights to pass through the Suez Canal, the Associated Press reported from Cairo.

Egyptian Government sources, meanwhile, emphasized that Egypt had no intention whatsoever to permit an Israeli ship to go through the Canal.

"Al Ahram" charged that "at a time when Britain permits ships to pass through the Suez Canal under Egypt's terms, Mr. Dulles encourages Israel to fish in troubled waters."

Poland Has 'Own Road' To Socialism

WARSAW, Wednesday (Reuter). — Mr. Wladyslaw Gomułka said today that the road to Socialism could be different in other countries from that in Russia, because of "historically determined national characteristics."

The Polish Communist chief told the Ninth Plenum of the United Workers Party that "the concept of the Polish road to Socialism is our own, but the idea of national differences as to the road to Socialism was formulated by Lenin."

Q Does that imply, Mr. Secretary, that the U.S. would support such a test plan?

A Support it—in what way do you mean?

Q Well, you would not disapprove of their testing their rights to go through there under the 1888 Convention?

A It is hardly up to us to tell another government not to exercise what they believe their rights are and not to test them out. Certainly we would not oppose their testing out their rights if they think that it is in their interest. We would, of course.

Ike Sees 'No Objection'

WASHINGTON, Wednesday (Reuter). — President Eisenhower said at his press conference today that Israel would have a case to submit before the World Court if Egypt stopped a test of Israel's right to send a ship through the Suez Canal.

Asked to comment on the Israel plan to send a test ship through the Canal and the announced Egyptian intention to stop it, the President said he had always wanted to see those matters decided by the international bodies set up, such as the United Nations and the World Court.

The President's answer was:

"Well, of course I have always wanted to see those matters properly decided by international bodies that have been set up—the U.N. and the World Court."

"I would see no objection if Israel sends—makes a peaceful test just exactly where they stand."

HOW DULLES PUT IT

The following verbatim account of the press conference given by Secretary of State Dulles, in Washington on Tuesday, on the subject of the passage of an Israeli ship through the Suez Canal, is taken from the official transcript issued yesterday by the U.S. Information Service in Tel Aviv.

Q Mr. Secretary, the Government of Israel has announced its intention to send a test ship through the Suez Canal. Is the Government of the United States consulting with the U.S. Government on this matter, and what is the U.S. policy with regard to this plan?

A We are not officially advised of any such plan, and therefore we have no official policy with respect to that particular plan. You know the views which the U.S. has always held with respect to the right of access to and through the Canal by the vessels of all nations in accordance with the 1888 Convention.

Q Does that imply, Mr. Secretary, that the U.S. would support such a test plan?

A Support it—in what way do you mean?

Q Well, you would not disapprove of their testing their rights to go through there under the 1888 Convention?

A It is hardly up to us to tell another government not to exercise what they believe their rights are and not to test them out. Certainly we would not oppose their testing out their rights if they think that it is in their interest. We would, of course.

Engineers Asked to End Unofficial Strike

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — A strike of some 100 employees of the Public Works Department which began today was not officially authorized, the Histadrut declared in a statement issued tonight.

The claim of Government-employed engineers for the setting-up of a separate organization outside of the Civil Servants Union conflicted with the Histadrut's decision, it added.

At a meeting with representatives of the Engineers' Union last Sunday, Mr. Becker, head of the Histadrut's Trade Union Department, outlined several proposals which would ensure full representation of engineers both at work and in the Civil Service Commission.

700 Home Units Near Nahariya

NAHARIYA, Wednesday. — Construction has started of 700 dwelling units on the hills east of Nahariya in order to prepare decent housing for the 1,300 new immigrant families the town intends to take this year.

Another 500 units, huts of asbestos cement, would also be constructed, the chairman of the Local Council, Mr. Gershon Tatz, stated today. These would include 50 large flats for the families of doctors and members of the free professions.

Mr. Tatz stated that since the beginning of the year Nahariya had taken in 500 families, most of whom were given flats in new housing projects. At first all had been employed in emergency work, but some had already been given jobs on development projects in Western Galilee and others were now employed in construction.

Kafir Kasim Mukhtar Testifies He Got Half-Hour's Warning

By MACABEE KASKIN

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The first Kafir Kasim villager — the mukhtar — yesterday testified before the Military Tribunal on the curfew which was imposed on the evening of October 29, when 47 persons were killed.

The mukhtar, Wadda Ahmed Sarur, 74, was seated in front of the witness stand, to the left of the accused. The latter swiftly followed the mukhtar's words which were translated into Hebrew by Mr. Haim Tahan. None of the witnesses averted their eyes from him during his testimony.

Upon being sworn in, Sarur said he would tell the whole truth as if he cut my head off.

In reply to Agon-Aluf Gilon, the prosecutor, he said that at 4.30 p.m. on October 29 a jeep, containing four soldiers, stopped near his house. The sergeant — whom he could not identify — and whom he never remembered seeing before — told him that a "severe curfew" was imposed at 5 p.m.

The mukhtar asked about the curfew outside the village. He was told to send his son, Hani, to bring them.

"I said," the mukhtar told the court, "you are going to kill my son. He has only half an hour to return. I said my son would stay inside the house."

To Collect Men "I will go in the jeep with you," the mukhtar told the sergeant. He said that he represented the authorities and the Government. He would bring in the men.

"I should get those inside the village to enter the house," he told his son, Hani. "He must be inside at 5 p.m. The soldiers were told. At five minutes to five there was no one outside."

S/A Gilon: Did you hear shots that evening?

Q — Did you hear shots?

A — Yes, I heard shots.

Q — The shooting lasted until 7 or 7.15.

The mukhtar continued that before dawn his nephew, accompanied by an officer, knocked at his door and told him that the curfew would not be lifted at six, but at midnight. He did not leave his house.

A bit later he was taken to Rosh Hayin by First Sergeant Yosef Dangur, of the Military Governor's Office, and a soldier named Alexandrovich. At the village entrance to the village, there was a stream of blood, many trucks, 15 bicycles, and a wagon.

At Rosh Hayin he was asked to identify the bodies. He turned to look at them but could not identify one person.

He returned to Kafir Kasim and organized a 13-man burial squad in the morning.

Only two of the five defense counsel questioned the witness. When they finished, S/A Gilon attacked them mercilessly, noting that they "had wasted half a day of the Court's time."

Mr. Yitzhak Orr, defending Segen Gavriel Dehan, prefaced his questions with the remark that he meant nothing personal. He meant doing his duty to his client. (Later, however, he said that he intended to rip apart the "fabrications" which the mukhtar had told.)

Q — You yourself saw nothing happened in the village. You were there before 5 p.m. and did not leave until morning.

Q — You thought that the soldiers were only fired as a warning.

A — I told my grandson that he would not be afraid. But, the soldiers had thought differently. For they were shooting into bodies. Bullets shot in the air make a different sound.

Clashes at Ata

Council has filed in the Magistrate's Court claims for the payment of the salary. The Council does not yet intend to start a strike fund among workers.

In the Port, one of the "explanation" meetings, the strikers broke up today when the port employees told the strikers that they earned less than the Ata men.

Almogi's Charges This morning, the Secretary of the Labor Council, Mr. Yosef Almogi, M.E., called a press conference at which he launched a very strong attack on Mr. Hans Moller, General Manager of Ata. He said the Ata management was "worse than the city fathers of Bdom and Gomer." It had tried to introduce a concentration camp method into the plant and wanted to put a system of terror through the workers into becoming anonymous and silent units of production without any wishes or demands.

The Council would prove, Mr. Almogi said, that the Ata balance sheet was drawn up from a political and not economic viewpoint and that Ata's refusal to adjust wages was dictated by reasons of economy.

While the workers insisted on wage adjustments and improved social benefits to bring them in line with other plants, the main fight now was over Ata's intention to dismiss 120 workers. The Council did not object to the dismissal of redundant workers, nor even to the dismissal of the inefficient, after suitable negotiations with the workers' committee. But it did not countenance Mr. Moller's intention to dismiss anyone alive right to dismiss anyone he wished and replace him

Q — When the sergeant spoke to you, did not your son translate?

A — No, the sergeant spoke Arabic. He speaks better Arabic than I.

Q — When the sergeant said the curfew would be severe, did he say what would happen to those outside?

A — He did not say anything.

Q — I tell you, he said that all those outside would be shot.

A — Definitely not.

Q — Why were you afraid to send your son?

A — From the threat of the curfew.

Q — What threat?

A — He said only half an hour remained before curfew. How could I send my son? It was clear there would be danger.

Q — The sergeant never told you that something bad would happen to those outside after 5 p.m.

A — Definitely not. Only to tell them to enter their homes.

He continued that if he had not been afraid, "the village would have been liquidated that evening."

Q — But why were you afraid?

The sergeant looked like a murderer.

Q — Is it true that in Kafir Kasim there are armages who own guns?

A — Definitely not.

Q — Sever?

A — All those who smuggle arms are registered with the police, not with me. I don't know of any. But when a son quarrels with his father, he runs away to Mecca (in Jordan). He stays a month or so and is registered with the police. We told the police about him. They had an ambush and killed him. There was another one, Hani. We told the police. They had an ambush and killed him.

Q — There are others who smuggle guns into the village.

A — Yes. They are registered with the police.

Q — You hear no grudge against the police, or border forces?

A — If my son did wrong, I would have him over.

Q — You have no complaints against the authorities?

A — Only about the tragedy.

Segen Moshe Shwartz, defending five men, continued his cross-examination. He asked the mukhtar if he had been in the village on October 29 between 5 p.m. and 5.15 p.m. meeting with the Military Governor, Sigmund Aluf, and 8 p.m. when he reported before duty, he hedged about answering. He was ordered to answer by Aluf-Mishna Benayahu Halutz, the president judge, who said the tragedy took place.

The witness said he had gone to Natanya to eat supper and had goodnight to some one. He suddenly interrupted himself, saying: "I'm looking about this; don't publish it in the newspaper." He then had gone to Tel Aviv to bid goodbye to his wife and collect his sick gear.

He had intended to leave his post for home, but his job, something over six miles between the village and the army base, would only begin when the curfew was lifted the next morning.

Segen Shwartz not out to prove through the witness that the villagers, who were to testify, could have been influenced in their testimony through visits to the village of several interested parties, including Mr. Yitzhak Tzohar, Communist M.E.

S/A Gilon, through the witness, tried to have four names dropped from the list of 47 dead. The defense objected to this and he dropped this issue temporarily.

The trial continues this morning.

Doctors Discuss Health Insurance The Chairman of the Israel Medical Association, Dr. Z. Avigdor, warned 130 delegates attending the 23rd Congress in Jerusalem yesterday that any programme for compulsory health insurance would succeed only to the extent that medical institutions in the country and doctors were behind it. For his part, the Israel Medical Association would work to see that all doctors participated in such a scheme, including the elderly doctors.

Dr. Avigdor communicated the decision of the central committee of the Association to inaugurate a fund for doctors now leaving the country. This would be the doctors' contribution to the absorption of new doctors, he said.

Warned Congress Dr. Avigdor warned the Congress of the doctors' opposition to any change in the pattern of work in Kupat Holim without prior consultation with the Medical Association. More doctors could be absorbed by Kupat Holim if the present work pattern were to be enlarged, he added.

Dr. Y. Rom, representative of the Kupat Holim Doctors Association, said that the proposed scheme of free choice by patients of their doctors would result in longer queues and a lower medical standard.

A demand was made that the Government and the national institutions should absorb 200 new immigrant doctors in various medical institutions.

Dr. A. Abulov, head of Kupat Holim in Jerusalem, advocated a national health scheme in place of the present sick funds which tended to fragment medical services and accentuate lack of planning.

Defence Sums Up In Heruti Trial

TEL AVIV, Wednesday.

There was no proof that Yisroel Heruti was a member of a terrorist organization, and the evidence heard in the preliminary hearings did not justify his being committed for trial to the District Court, Advocate Y. Goldenberg, defending Heruti, told the Magistrate's Court today.

He was summing up the defence case in the preliminary hearings against Heruti, charged with being a leader of a terrorist organization and distributing posters, which labelled a magistrate, Magistrate Mrs. M. Ben Porath, told the court.

Fingerprints Found The fingerprints found on the wheel of the jeep used by the murderers were those of Dan Shimon, Mrs. Ben Porath said. Eilat Shimon, 22, is charged with premeditated murder, and Menkes is also accused of being a leader of a terrorist organization.

Mr. Goldenberg charged that the prosecution had drawn "the most fantastic conclusions from certain facts." Prosecution witness A. Eilat Shimon, a member of the terrorist group, had said in Court that he did not know of Heruti as a member of the organization. Mr. Goldenberg said that Eilat Shimon had stated that there had been an criminal connection between Heruti and Eilat Shimon, accused of the murder of Dr. Heruti, a lawyer, was asked to represent Heruti, or at least with him in a case, does not prove criminal contact between them. Mr. Goldenberg argued.

It had not been proved that the note Eilat Shimon received, allegedly mentioning Heruti, was a pseudonym "Yud" had been given to Eilat Shimon, or that "Yud" was the accused. Mr. Israel Tatz, not been certain that Heruti was the man who visited the arms dealer, Kfar Saba, the defence claimed.

Mr. Goldenberg charged that the witness who described the distribution in Tel Aviv streets of posters libelling a Jerusalem magistrate, had lied in court.

State Attorney Summing Up In Kastner Murder Hearing

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — Even without the statement which the accused had given after their arrest, there was clear proof that they were responsible for the murder of Dr. Yisroel Heruti, the State Attorney, Mrs. M. Ben Porath, told the investigating magistrates today.

She was summing up the prosecution case in the preliminary hearings of the three men accused of the murder of Dr. Kastner.

Joseph Menkes, 28, Eilat Shimon, 22, are charged with premeditated murder, and Menkes is also accused of being a leader of a terrorist organization.

No Emeq Railway In Near Future

TEL AVIV, Wednesday.

The proposed restoration of the railway line in the Emeq region will not be carried out in the near future because of the large investment required and the illiquid freight prospects, Mr. Savidor, General Manager of Israel Railways, stated today.

He was leaving together with Mr. P. Ginsburg, Director General of the Ministry of Transport, for a three-week study tour of transport in France at the invitation of the French Government.

Mr. Savidor will also visit Germany and Belgium in connection with existing orders for railway equipment. During his stay in Europe, Mr. Savidor will attend to purchases of equipment for the conversion to diesel of the existing steam locomotives, and the increase of passenger and freight services.

Trains will be more frequent and run faster after the signal system is completed on the Tel Aviv-Haifa line, and when the railway lines on the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem route are repaired and replaced, he said.

The letter is expected to take from two to three months. A junction station is to be built at Na'an which will improve passenger services on the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv-Beersheba route, it was said.

Referring to the proposed Negev railway line, Savidor said that a stretch had begun to be marked out from Beersheba to Dimona. A survey of the line between the latter place and Eilat was soon to be started, he stated.

Search for Yaffa Still Going On BEERSHEBA, Wednesday. — The search for seven-year-old Yaffa Meiri, who disappeared from her parents' home last Saturday night, still goes on, although on a smaller scale.

Detachments of policemen accompanied by trackers, are examining a number of places which might serve as hiding places. Special groups of police are investigating the criminal aspect of the case.

Radio Tower Topping In Beersheba BEERSHEBA, Wednesday. — A truck accidentally backed into the Makorot Company's radio mast which is now slowly toppling over. The police evacuated people from adjacent buildings and roped off streets to prevent injury when the radio mast finally falls. Late last night it was still standing although listing heavily.

Three Charged With Stealing Electricity Three residents of the Talpotei were arrested yesterday for stealing electricity. Without permission of the Electric Corporation and without paying bills, they had connected their huts to the electric lines.

Emil Sheriki, Nisim Maman and Meir Levi were accused of "fraudulent acquisition of electricity." They were freed on bail of IL150 each.

Cattle Vaccinated In Beit Alpha Area Following the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Beit Alpha, more than 2,000 head of cattle were vaccinated in that area this week. The Director of Veterinary Services announced that the vaccinations will continue with the receipt of additional quantities of vaccine expected from Holland within a few days.

In order to avoid the spread of the disease, the Minister of Agriculture has prohibited the transportation of cattle and sheep without special permit from a Government veterinary.

Portrait of a Builder The immigrants who have already moved into the houses with their own dunnage plots at Gan Hannah Leah Rose, owe much of their good fortune to Mr. David Rose, builder of New York skyscrapers, other giant structures, and "tens of thousands of apartments." David Rose Associates Inc. also own most of the building and lease them out.

Mr. Rose, a very lively 60, mentions his extensive building in the U.S. with a remarkable casualness, the same cannot be said when he gets on the subject of new immigrant housing in Israel. At that, he babbles out a stub of pencil, matches your block of notes, and fills pages of it with kitchen, bath, and living room, with explanatory notes on the advantages of semi-detached housing for newcomers.

Having taken something to his heart, Mr. Rose (together with his brother Samuel) laid a $200,000 on the table of the Labour Ministry, and said "Go Ahead." The Government added about $300,000, and building got started.

That was a year ago. Today, the immigrants, ex-mechanics dwellers near Ramatana and about 50 other recently arrived immigrant families, are living in the comfort of 78 two-roomed cottages at Gan Hannah Leah Rose. The smudge of a meubara has been wiped off the map.

Gov't Seen Unable to Prevent C-o-L Pay Rise Next Month

TEL AVIV, Wednesday.

It is likely that cost-of-living allowances will have to be increased at the end of June, according to senior Finance Ministry economists. They were commenting on the four-point rise in the C-o-L index during April.

Figures published by the Central Bureau of Statistics yesterday showed that the index had risen 15 points during the first four months of 1957 to stand at 242. According to the C-o-L agreement, increased allowances must be paid for June if the index has risen by about 7.5 points from the beginning of the year, or three per cent for the six-month period.

Since an additional two point rise — expected in May — will bring the increase to 17 points, grave doubts were expressed yesterday whether it would be possible to depress the index in June by the 15 points required to prevent an increase in salaries. This was the opinion of various economists despite the expected relief provided by lower prices of summer vegetables and the anticipated introduction of further subsidies.

One prediction made to this reporter was that the index will show a 10 to 12 point increase by the end of June. This would mean an average increase in salary of IL40 to IL45 a month for each wage-earner, pouring into the economy.

This would be the largest jump since 1953 and would probably be followed by further price increases during the following months.

"Ha'Olam Haazeh" can do much better than berate the Police for catching murderers too quickly. It has said so plainly from the beginning that the reins of government have been snatched from an incapacitated Prime Minister by a five-man "Black Hand," and that it was their minions who liquidated Kastner. In the case of the Jerusalem orthodox terrorist, it was a which used to sabotage cars used on the Sabbath, that warnings had appeared to help. In the "Sulam" group, stiffened by a nucleus of ex-IHLY members trained and toughened in the gruntnut struggle against the Haganah, the word "wonder" has

General Reluctance

Jewish history is a story of persecution, private, public and legal. It is the source of the obvious reluctance of the Israeli judges and prosecutors, public and press, to have a few dead guilty men convicted to lessen the sentence, or to let him serve the sentence he has received. It has often been remarked that prison sentences in this country are much lighter than those imposed in parallel cases abroad. With it goes a certain fear of tyrannical and suspicious government authority in general.

They are now likely to believe that Security is entirely concerned with Fogelberg Ha'aretz terrorism, and not with the problems created by Israel's enemies abroad. But why should a government actually spend large sums of money on infiltrating agents into terrorist groups over a period of years, only to be defeated in the end by a successful murder coup? Why were preventive measures not taken in the Under the law, derived in large part from the Mandatory code, group
